OAKLAND

The Sensible Six--$875

"Sturdy as the Oak" Completely equipped, f. o. b. Pontiac

THE first thought that pops into a man's mind when he looks over the new Oakland Six is: "There's a car that is really practical in every way. It is sensible in size, power, equipment and price, and it bears the name of one of the most reliable concerns in business. That is the common sense car for me to buy."

The new Oakland Six is sensible in size. The wheelbase of model 34 is 112 inches.
The bodies of both touring car and roadster are not only longer and wider and higher than the Model 32, but they are roomier and more comfortable than in other cars of the same, or in many cases even longer, wheelbase.

It is sensible in power. The motor is the high speed valve-in-head type, and develops 41 horse power at 2500 revolutions per minute.

It is sensible in weight. Though big capacity and very strongly built, the new Oakland Six weighs 2150 pounds or 53 pounds to every horsepower developed by the motor.

It is sensible because it is over-tired. Tire manufacturers recommend 32x3 1/2 inch tires for 2200 pound cars. The Oakland Sensible Six weighs 2150 pounds, yet it has 32x4-inch over sized tires. This means not only improved riding qualities but greatly increased tire mileage.

It is sensible in construction. Some features of the Oakland Sensible Six are:
Oakland-Northway six-cylinder motor; Hotchkiss drive; Delco starting, lighting and ignition; tapering frame on which entire length of body sits; long, semi elliptic springs; Marvel carburetor; over sized tires; genuine leather trimming, plated type, with deep comfortable upholstery; low center of gravity prevents side-sway and skidding, which wear out tires and rack the frame and driving mechanism.

It is sensible because of its wonderful riding qualities. Tires are over-size—32x-4 inches—and rear springs are 51 inches long and shaped to eliminate rebound. Upholstering is deep and soft and wheelbase is of correct length to give perfect road-action.

It is sensible because it is economical. Fuel gives from 18 to 25 miles per gallon, and extra large tires last much longer and cost less per mile of use than in cars of the same or higher price than the Oakland Six.

Lastly, the Oakland Six is sensible in price. Considering all its features—great er power, lengthened wheelbase, bigger body, over sized tires, light weight—this car at $875 sets the standard of value for cars of its type. At less price you cannot get all the qualities you really want in a car, and in most cars at higher prices you pay entirely out of proportion to what you get.

PUBLIC OPINION

Auto Driving in Hays.

To the editor:

So much has been said and written about "jay driving" that it seems useless to write more, but realizing that results are only obtained through persistent effort I write this. Not expecting to put forth any new phase on the subject but to remind the readers of what is heard in everyday conversation on the streets.

Several serious accidents have occurred in Hays, in the last few months, due to careless driving and unless more care and system is used in the future the worst is yet to come.
From observations on the streets a person would think that about ninety per cent. of the autos in Hays, were made without horns. Why the lack of noise? Are the drivers too careless, lazy or are they afraid of wearing out their horns? A stranger would think that the town was nearly dead and that the drivers are afraid a little noise would cause its death.

This subject should be talked about, written about and hammered into the ears of all concerned until the proper ordinances are passed and enforced to protect all wayfar-ers in our city.

If driving on the wrong side of the street, failing to "honk" at the crossings, or failing to make the proper signals on turning a corner was considered a misdemeanor, with a fine of at least ten dollars for each offense, and the law enforced it, it would not be long until careless driving would cease, accidents would be less frequent and life would be much safer on the streets of Hays.

Worn Out Sidewalks.

One of the best improvements that can be added to the city is good sidewalks, these Hays has, with a few exceptions. The worst one is the old brick walk leading east from the corner of Chestnut and Juniata Streets, on the north side of the road.
This walk looks as if it was one of the old pioneers, being worn down and full of holes where bricks have been broken out. When a sidewalk has served the public the length of time this one has, judging from its appearance, it is time to replace it with a new one.

There is nothing more disgusting than having to walk on an old worn out sidewalk, where you are apt to be tripped up by a loose brick or stumble in one of the holes, where a brick has been broken out, which in all probability would result in broken bones or other serious injuries.

Hays has several blocks of brick sidewalks and nearly every one of them are out of repair.

These should be taken up and good cement walks put in their place.

An American Citizen.

The Fort Hays Normal School will present two big numbers this year at the time of the Golden Belt meeting. The new feature will be a full evening's play which will be given on Saturday, March 24th.

This play will be under the direction of Miss Elsie Macintosh, head of the department of dramatic art.
The best talent in the school has been secured and a strong cast is assured.

"An American Citizen," is a four act comedy and one of the modern royalty plays. As this royalty will be paid, the play will be given under its right name and as originally written.

Rev. E. O. Rogers,
Pastor.

On last Saturday afternoon, we had a postponed business meeting with the election of officers. The reports that were brought in were very encouraging indeed, and showed that all lines of the work are in splendid condition.

One of the most important things that happened in the business was the election of Brother, John Earlenbough as deacon. Among us this office stands next to that of the pastor in importance and responsibilities.

Next Sunday morning, the theme will be—"Our Perception of God's Nearness." In the evening, the theme will be—"Redemption's Work." The Sunday School will meet as usual, Brother, Alonzo Brumitt is superintendent. The B. Y. P. U., both Seniors and Juniors will meet at 6:30.

Our district associational Sunday School, and B. Y. P. U., convention will meet with us March 29, and 30.
Among the speakers are, Rev. J. M.
Gurley, State Superintendent of this work; Mrs. Bradley, State Elementary Secretary; and Rev. J. A. Curtis, of India. The full program will be printed before the time of the convention.

Mrs. Colyer may now enjoy the distinction of having the largest Sunday School class of young married women, fifty in number, in Western Kansas. She is a fine teacher.
Mrs. Hale is her assistant teacher and chairman of the committee to solicit new members. There are also committees on mercy and help, flowers, social and literary affairs. The motto of the class is "Do What You Can."

The class has a large vision before it, and will continue to grow.

Subjects for next Sunday will be "The Modern Autocrat" and "God's

Salt and Milk for Ink.
Ink stains on garments can be soaked out in a mixture of salt and milk. A teaspoonful of salt to nearly a gill of milk is the right proportion. This answers for either white or colored fabrics, but if the ink has been allowed to dry, it will be necessary to soak the stained part in the milk for an hour or two.

Birds (excepting English sparrows) save $2,000,000,000 every year by destroying insects. If the birds were encouraged, their nests left alone, and the English sparrows destroyed, at least another billion would be added to this great saving. The birds save not only farm and garden products, but also both fruit and shade trees. Above all things encourage bird life to the uttermost limit.
